

Xerox introduces Push-Button Copying of Catalog Cards.

Now you can reproduce catalog cards in seconds with the Xerox 914.
You can copy four different cards at once and make any number of copies you want.

"It's so quick and easy."

Here's how you copy
catalog cards in seconds.

All you need are the originals and standard card stock.

1. Load the card stock into the Xerox 914.

2. Place the catalog cards in this special holder so the cards will be positioned properly on the scanning glass.

3. Dial the number of copies you want and push the button.

Now, just stand there. The Xerox 914 does the rest.

The 914 will even copy worn and frayed cards and make copies that are often better than the originals.

If you want to make a change on a catalog card, you merely dab on Xerox Snopake correction fluid and type in any changes.

The Xerox 914 never makes a mistake. Every copy is an exact copy. No more proofreading.

If this is the only job the Xerox 914 did for you, you'd be 'way ahead. But there's more. Much more.

Eliminate typing overdue book notices.

Many libraries that have a 914 copier are converting to a new system that identifies borrowers of overdue books as well as the books themselves.

To borrow a book, a reader fills out a borrowing card with his name, address and details of the book.

When the due date rolls around, the borrower and the book are instantly identified from the information on the borrowing card.

Simply mail a xerocopy of the borrowing card to the borrower.

Compare this method with the method you are now using. You may be surprised by the amount of time and money you save.

Cut down outside printing.

Most libraries need a mountain of material copied in a year. Everything from administrative memos and telephone directories to bulletins and acquisition lists.

The Xerox 914 can handle these routine copying jobs quickly and economically.

How much will all this cost?

You don't have to buy the machine. All you have to pay Xerox for are the number of copies you make, based on a minimum number of copies per month. Plus a small monthly rental.

What if you're opening a new branch?

You'll need a complete set of new cards. Xerox will do this job for you in a fraction of the time and cost it usually takes.

Fill out the coupon and we'll send you free of cost our new 24-page booklet "Xerox Systems and Services for Librarians."

Considering the amount of material your library has to have copied every day, it only makes good sense for you to get in touch with the people who make the most advanced copying machine in the world.

THE DEATH OF GOD CONTROVERSY

By Thomas W. Ogletree. An analysis and appraisal of the highly controversial "God is dead" contention and its three leading exponents—William Hamilton, Paul van Buren, and Thomas J. J. Altizer. The author explores the "radical theology" itself, giving a brief explanation of the background of the movement. Writings of each of the movement leaders are compared, bringing to light three independent lines of theological reflection. These differences are as interesting as the convictions the three have in common. 128 pages.

AMERICAN RELIGIOUS HERETICS

Edited by George Shriver. The story of five major American heretics: Phillip Schaff, C. H. Toy, Borden Parker Bowne, C. A. Briggs, and Algernon S. Crapsey—men who willingly set themselves against the orthodoxy of their day as they pioneered new fields of religious thoughts. An introduction places the idea of heresy in the perspective of religious history, and a conclusion pictures each man as a creative individual bringing new ideas to the religious scene. 240 pages.

BASIC TYPES OF PASTORAL COUNSELING

By Howard J. Clinebell, Jr. This well-rounded survey suggests a revised approach to the field of pastoral counseling—one geared to the needs and capabilities of the average minister. As the author looks at new thrusts and techniques of psychotherapy and counseling, he relates them to the role of the minister in healing and guiding. He then directs attention to how these techniques can be fully utilized by the minister who is not, and does not intend to become, a specialist in counseling. 320 pages.

COPYING METHODS MANUAL

A comprehensive study of processes for the reproduction of research materials by William R. Hawken. An invaluable guide to the use of copying equipment. Dealing with both eye-legible and microcopies, the manual discusses:

- a. the principal characteristics of reproduction processes,
- b. the physical characteristics of research materials, and
- c. the characteristics affecting their reproduction.

Eleven main classes of research materials, both printed and non-printed, are covered, as well as type faces, printing quality, papers, color, weight, size and shape of bound volumes, bindings, folding plates, warping, damaged or mended pages, and microforms. In addition, this indispensable volume:

- d. describes in detail 24 processes suitable for reproduction purposes,
- e. provides information and advice on techniques to use for best results.

Includes almost 200 illustrations and diagrams especially helpful in attaining copy excellence. $15.00

The COPYING METHODS MANUAL will be supplemented by equipment test reports in LIBRARY TECHNOLOGY REPORTS, a loose-leaf subscription service. Write for information.

A student is about to dial the phone in his dorm room. He's going to use it to study French by calling the Learning Lab. At the same time other students will be dialing lessons in Biology, Government, Speech . . . any subject the university has scheduled for that period. Through the telephone, universities can extend their Learning Lab facilities economically to every dormitory room, so students can take full advantage of a university's opportunities.

This use of the telephone as a learning tool, in addition to its everyday function, is just a beginning. Soon, a student will be able to connect with a computer, put a problem to it, and receive information back in the most convenient form . . . voice or teletypewriter . . . even as a video image.

This is one more way we are working to improve communications to meet the future needs of students, faculty and administration. Many of these communications systems—Tele-Lecture service (two-way amplified phone calls), Data-Phone* service, and remote blackboard projection—are available now. Find out what you can do to benefit from them by talking with your Bell Telephone Communications Consultant.

RENAISSANCE REPRINTS—1500-1700

RENAISSANCE REPRINTS will make available once again important texts in history, political thought and literature now expensive and nigh impossible to find. The best available contemporary edition will be reprinted. Available good modern critical editions will not be duplicated.

Each reprint will have a new introduction by a scholar wherein he will place the text in its historical setting, review the relevant literature, indicate relations to other contemporary tracts and provide a concise bio-bibliography.

The following series will appear:

- A. French history and political thought
Editor: Ralph E. Giesey, University of Minnesota
- B. French literature
- C. Italian history and political thought
Editor: Gordon Griffiths, University of Washington
- D. Italian literature
- E. Spanish history and political thought
- F. Spanish literature
Editor: Otis H. Green, University of Pennsylvania
- G. Bibliography
Editor: Archer Taylor, University of California

Publication opens with Series A. French history and political thought, which first offers the prime sources for Huguenot political thought and activity: the record of a great struggle in the later sixteenth century over the principles of heterodoxy in religion and the right of resistance in politics:
